

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

I hereby extend my heartfelt thanks to my dear mother and brother, John Van Liew, and to all those members of the various branches of the family who so kindly lent me their assistance in this work. The utmost care has been taken to make this record correct in every detail.

St. Louis, December 15th, 1910.

THE FAMILY'S RECORD

HISTORICAL

The Van Leeuwens came from Utrecht, Holland, and from the Village of Leeuwen, in Gelderland, on the Ware, in the Netherlands, Holland.

There are no Van Liews in Holland. The family there spell their name Van Leeuwen. First changed in America about year 1700 to Lewen.

In the Province of New Jersey, just prior to the Revolution, 1775, it was spelled Lew and Lew, thus Van Lewe—Van Lew. During and after the Revolution it began to be spelled as now, viz.: Van Liew. The family name is shown in this Record, after the first generation as Anglicized (Van Liew), in order to give uniformity and to avoid confusion.

The children of the Van Liew family were generally taught the Dutch language until about the year 1810.

November 17, 1701, Frederic Hendrickson Van Leeuwen (Van Liew) of Nassau Island (Long Island) purchased property in Middlesex and Somerset Counties, Province of New Jersey.

The Van Liew families of the Colonial period were large land, stock and slave owners.

Concerning the Period of the Revolutionary War.

In all about fifteen male members of the Van Liew family served in the Revolution under Gen. George Washington. However, thus far, there is accessible record of ten only, and of these the service of five only is thus far shown. It is hoped the matter will be fully cleared up (which the compiler under stands is now being done).

Here are names of the Patriots:

*John Van Liew stationed at Springfield, N. J. June 18 to 27, 1780, under Col. John Taylor.

The Patriots were called Rebels and the non-Patriots Loyalists. For five years New Jersey was a granary for both armies and was a perfect hotbed of warfare during the Revolution. The length of service of the Patriots was from three months up. In one instance, after the Battle of Trenton, December 26, 1776, they extended their time for two weeks. Their time was divided between their crops and service in the army.

"Two Forts or Redoubts were thrown up on the farm of Denice Van Liew at Middlebush, N. J., by the British General Howe with two Divisions. Winter of 1778-1779. Another Fort was made on farm of Ann Van Liew, widow of Cornelius" June 14-19, 1779. (Ann's farm was on opposite side of road from that of Denice.)

They were driven from home by the British, their cattle confiscated, and the meat was chopped up on the old Dutch cupboards in the kitchens. The nicks in the cupboards were objects of curiosity for many years afterward.

The Van Liew family was partly reimbursed for their many losses by a special act of the New Jersey Legislature.

Shortly before the close of the Revolutionary War, in 1781, the New Jersey Legislature ordered a record to be taken, under oath, before the appraisers of the damages done by the British to the property of the Patriots of New Jersey. The Van Liew family rendered bills as follows, viz.:

Hendrick Van Liew.....	£ 11	S. 7	D. 6
Ann Van Liew	276	6	9
Frederick Van Liew.....	183	8	0
Frederick Van Liew, Jr.....	15	0	0
Cornelius Van Liew.....	18	2	10
Johannes Van Liew.....	519	1	65

"The old Van Liew homestead was a large double house, six miles from New Brunswick, N. J., which was occupied, the first floor, by the Federal officers during the Revolution. The Van Liew family lived upstairs. During this time Gen. Washington visited this house, and a skirmish and battle occurred on a knoll in the center of the farm, just west of the house, between the British and the Federals. Many flints and bullets were found on the farm for years afterwards. The Patriots' barns were torn down and the floors of the homes were torn up to make bridges and to complete the boats in construction for the purpose of aiding the British Army to cross the Raritan River near New Brunswick, N. J."—Extract from Judge Ralph Voorhees (Fredonia, N. Y., Papers).

Richard Van Liew and a member of the Wyckoff family acted as guides to Gen. Washington in New Jersey.

The term "Mile Run," used in the old stage-coaching days on the road from New York City to Philadelphia, was expressive of the distance out of New Brunswick, N. J., toward Philadelphia. Thus three miles out—"3 Mile Run," etc. This is how the localities of 3 Mile Run, N. J., and 6 Mile Run, N. J., derived their names. Van Liews lived at both places.

The name of Dennis and Denise, given to our sons of every generation, really should be Denise or Denice, in honor of and in perpetuation of the name of Helena Denise (or Denice), born March 5, 1700, the wife of Frederick Van Liew, born April 30, 1694. Let future generations take especial note of this and continue the good deed.

First settlement of lands in Somerset County, New Jersey, began November 1st, 1681. The Van Liew Cemetery in New Brunswick is a beautiful place. There are interred members of the Van Liew, Wyckoff, Vanderbilt, Suydam and other families. One-half mile south of Middlebush, N. J., Depot, back of the main wagon road, one field to the east, on what is now known as the Drew farm, is a little, triangular spot, one acre in extent. This was the burial place of many of the early Van Liews in New Jersey, the graves long since obliterated.

The Van Liews intermarried with the following-named families: Burhans, Voorhees, Power, Sansbury, Denice, Benton, Van Wicklen, Quigley, Van Doren, Bowman, Bennett, Duryee or Duryea, Cortelyou, Cowenhavens, Hendricksons, Polhemus, Bogarts, Van Arsdale, Rapelyea, Lott, Schenck, Van Strycker, Ditmass, Sutphin, Wyckoff, Suydam, Langstruat, Manger, Budd, Veghte, Probasco, Bun, Parsell, Williamson,, Vanortstrand, Cerck, Van der Vere, Buckeliew, Hageman, Graham.

The Dutch Reformed Church at Millstone, N. J., was 100 years old Saturday, August 11, 1866. The list of subscribers for building of church, December 6, 1766, includes the following names: Cornelius Van Lewe, Denice Van Lewe, Ann Van Liew (Ann subscribed March 6, 1777, two months after the decease of her husband, Cornelius). Abraham Durye subscribed at the same time. And Gabriel Durye subscribed at the close of the Revolution.

John Van Liew, who was born January 9, 1791, at Middlebush, N. J. (grandfather of the compiler of this Record), moved west to Ohio, that his children might expand, and prophesied that his children would live to see people fly through the air and also have free communication through the world. He at first emigrated as far as Chicago, Ill., at which place a land owner offered to trade a tract of land, located in what is now the heart of Chicago, for one of his (John Van Liew's) horses, but my grandfather declined the offer and moved back to Morrow County, Ohio, where he resided many years. He also resided in Richland County, Perry Township, Ohio. He moved West from New Jersey about 1834.

Henry Clow Van Liew (Record No. 49) owned and operated saw mills and flour mills in Michigan and Indiana. He was engaged in the drug business at South Bend, Ind., at the time of his decease.

Alpheus O. Van Liew (Record No. 73) was a druggist at Lakeville, Ind.

The Burgomaster of the City of Amsterdam, Holland, at the present time is a Van Leeuwen. The writer recently received a communication from that gentleman.

THE WYCKOFF FAMILY.

All its branches are descended from Peter Claus Wyckoff, who came from the Netherlands, and settled in Flatbush, L. I., in 1655. He married Grietje, daughter of Hendrick Van Ness, and had seven sons—Claus, Hendrick, Cornelius, John, Gerritt, Martin and Pieter.

Simon Wyckoff, son of Cornelius, lived at Three-Mile Run, N. J.

The name was spelled Wickoff, Wikoff, Wyckoff, Wykoff.

The following-named members of the family served in the Revolution:

Wickoff—Cornelius, Garrett, Jacob, John, Joachan, John B., Peter, Samuel, William; New Jersey.

Wikoff—Okey, Garrett, Jacob, Peter, William; New Jersey.

Wyckoff—Cornelius, George, Garrett, Isaac, John B., Peter C.; New Jersey.

Wykoff—Jacob; New Jersey.

Major Wyckoff and Private John Wyckoff; New York.

(See Van Liew Record No. 15.)

In Somerset County, New Jersey, November 14, 1783, A marriage license was issued to Peter Van Liew (line of descent not yet found) and Sytie (Cynthia) Wyckoff. M. Nov. 20, 1783.

He settled at first at New Utrecht, where he bought a farm, which he sold October 5, 1681, for 3200 Gulden and a new wagon to Gerrit Cornelisen (Van Duyn), as per page 148 of Liber AA of Flatbush, Records.
